FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT FOR NON-ACCOUNTANTS PROGRAMME

What is the DCSDC Financial Management for Non-Accountants Programme?

Whilst SME and micro enterprise owner-managers are typically very strong in areas such as product design, sales and customer service, a common weakness shared by many owner-managers is a 'fear of the numbers'. As a result, many owner-managers 'leave this to the accountant' and only worry about financial performance when their year end accounts are about to be posted.

Whilst this 'bury the head in the sand' approach to financial management is often tempting, one of the common attributes of resilient businesses is an ongoing focus on the numbers.

Delivered as part of the DCSDC Business Boost Programme, the Financial Management for Non-Accountants Programme is therefore aimed at owner-managers who want to know what they need to know ...without becoming an accountant.

What does the programme involve?

- 3 compulsory workshops aimed at laying a foundation for your online growth
 - Understanding your business's costs and how to manage these;
 - Managing cash in a turbulent world;
 - Accessing finance from external sources.
- Access to bespoke one-to-one mentoring from an experienced consultant whose role will be to help you get to grips with the finances of your business so that you can ultimately run it more effectivelyand sleep better at nights!

Due to ongoing restrictions relating to travel and social interaction, all one to one mentoring will be provided virtually using Zoom software.

If you are not familiar with this software, a member of the Full Circle team can assist you to access and begin to use this.
